Description

Are you an aspiring filmmaker looking for an exciting internship opportunity? Look no further than the Walt Disney Internship National Geographic Documentary Films Internship in Livonia. This unique opportunity allows you to work alongside some of the most talented filmmakers in the industry and gain valuable experience in the field of documentary filmmaking.

The Walt Disney Internship National Geographic Documentary Films Internship in Livonia is a highly competitive program that provides selected individuals with the chance to work on some of the most exciting documentary films of our time. As an intern, you will have the opportunity to work on every aspect of the filmmaking process, from research and development to production and post-production.

Responsibilities

As an intern, your responsibilities will include assisting with research and development for upcoming films, working on set during filming, assisting with post-production tasks such as editing and sound design, and providing general support to the documentary filmmaking team.

Qualifications

To be considered for this internship, you must be currently enrolled in a film or media studies program, or have recently graduated. You should have a strong interest in documentary filmmaking and be able to demonstrate a solid understanding of the filmmaking process. In addition, you should have excellent communication skills and be able to work well in a team environment.

Experience

While previous experience in documentary filmmaking is not required, it is highly valued. Applicants with experience in research, production, or post-production are encouraged to apply.

Skills

In addition to excellent communication skills and a solid understanding of the filmmaking process, successful candidates will have strong research skills, attention to detail, and the ability to work well under pressure. Familiarity with editing software such as Final Cut Pro or Adobe Premiere is also highly valued.

Job Benefits

The Walt Disney Internship National Geographic Documentary Films Internship in Livonia provides interns with an unparalleled opportunity to gain hands-on experience in the documentary filmmaking industry. In addition, successful candidates will receive a stipend to cover living expenses during the internship period. This internship also provides valuable networking opportunities and may lead to future job opportunities within the industry.
